PARISH NEWS
NOVEMBER 2010

THE PARISHES OF BRANDESTON AND KETTLEBURGH

Dear Friends,

As I write, those images of thanksgiving, relief and celebration at the rescue of the thirty three Chilean miners from the San José mine are fresh in my memory.

During the weeks that it has taken to achieve this outcome, people around the world have been caught up in the drama of this amazing story as it has unfolded. I know I'm not alone in having been struck by the almost tangible faith and the faithfulness that the world's media have enabled us to observe.

More than their religious faith, which has itself been remarkable, we have wondered at the resilient faith of the trapped miners in the technical capability of the rescuers efforts, and have seen the faithfulness of all who contributed to the rescue, the power of hope to sustain life and defeat despair, and the jubilation of the residents of Camp Hope as they greeted the emergence of the thirty three from the bowels of the earth to what almost seems a new life for each one of them.

Of course, the impact of the trauma of the whole incident on the wider community is only just beginning to manifest itself, but already, across Chile, it has generated extraordinary expressions of mutual dependence, appreciation, commitment and resolution for the future as well as the outpouring of raw emotion.

This incident has reminded me again that, regardless of the differences of culture or of cause, the line between life and death is extraordinarily thin, and that the human spirit can be strengthened rather than necessarily overwhelmed by adversity and suffering.

This month we reflect again on the adversity and suffering inflicted upon human beings by the impact and trauma of war. Of course the circumstances and the issues are entirely different and the parallels between the two may be tenuous, but the annual call to Remembrance reminds us of the cost and the value of the sacrifice offered by all those service men and women, aid workers and others who have accepted, and who continue to accept, danger for themselves to bring safety or a better life to others, and by the families who support and sustain the ones they love.

The qualities of humanity, of courage and faithfulness, of hope expressed in action, and of commitment to each other, that we see in such life and death situations should give us all cause for thought and grounds for thankfulness, bringing us to a clearer understanding of the world's need for peace and justice in the widest and deepest meaning of both those words.

Such an understanding may enable us to better prepare ourselves for the arrival of Advent, with all the searching, expectation and anticipation that that season evokes in us.

With best wishes
Robin

REMEMBER A LOVED ONE IN FRAMLINGHAM

St Elizabeth Hospice's Light up a Life event in Framlingham is for everyone, not just those touched by hospice care, to remember their loved ones at Christmas.

Those who attend can make a donation to put a light in memory of someone on a Christmas tree at the event.

All proceeds help to provide care and support to patients and their families in East Suffolk.

The Light Up a Life event will take place on Saturday 4th December at 3pm at St Michael's Church in conjunction with Churches Together.

This year the Hospice has organised it as an event in its own right, unlike previous years when it formed part of the Christmas Market on Market Hill.

For more information regarding Light up a Life please contact the hospice fundraising team on 01473 723600, email fundraising@stelizabethhospice.org.uk or visit www.stelizabethhospice.org.uk

KETTLEBURGH BAPTISMS

What a happy occasion as two children were Baptised in St Andrew's Church, Kettleburgh on Saturday 25th September 2010. The children were Nathan David Berry (4½) and his sister Megan May Berry (13 months). The family moved to Victoria mill Road, Framlingham two years ago from Kettleburgh. It was also Andrew Berry's fortieth birthday, so after the baptisms in church everyone was invited to a combined celebration of baptism and birthday at Cretingham Golf Club. I hear, subsequently, that it was a great family gathering and a good time was had by all. Thank you, Jemma, for all your excellent organizing.

We send our love and good wishes to the family; our prayers for Nathan and Megan that they will grow up to be strong to live a full life. May God bless Nathan and Megan.

BRANDSTON BAPTISM

Sunday 17th October was a happy occasion as at least eighty people gathered in Brandeston Church for the Baptism of Callum Jack Williams, aged 9 months. Callum is the son of Kevin and Vicki (née Prime) Williams who live at High View, Cretingham. They have a daughter also – Chloe aged 4 years, who has also been baptised in Brandeston Church. Both Kevin and Vicki are managers at a shipping company in Ipswich. The lesson in the service was read by Gill Milton, who is the sister of Vicki's late mother, Judy. This made a moving family connection. Gill had travelled from Southampton where she lives near her elderly mother.

A little bit of Brandeston history was being lived out. Vicki is the daughter of John and (the late) Judy Prime and this couple bought the Congregational Chapel in the Street and converted it to a house. Sadly Judy, a popular lady in the village, died some years ago; her body lies in the churchyard. It was good to see Mike Prime, Vicki's brother, who now lives in Kent, with his Lithuanian wife and sweet little girl.

We send our love and good wishes to the whole family with our prayer that Callum will grow up to be a fine strong boy. God bless you Callum.

KETTLEBURGH WEDDING

Congratulations! to Helen Bollingbroke and Sydney Clibbens who were married in St. Andrew's Church, Kettleburgh on Saturday 2nd October. Helen and Syd live at 10 Church Road, Kettleburgh where they have been for the past five years. Helen is the catering manager at Easton Farm Park and Syd is a truck driver. Helen was given away by her mother, Judith; the Best Man was Shaun Clibbens, Syd's son. The bridesmaids were Lyndsey Cooper and Alexandra Sheen (6); Lyndsey also took part in the service by reading a poem. The Bible reading, from 1 Corinthians 13, was read by Richard Barton and the organist was Anne Bater.

SANDRA RANDALL

It is with much sadness that we record the death of Sandra Randall, aged 63 years, of Whittlesey near Peterborough, Lincolnshire. Sandra dies on 15th September 2010 after a very short illness; she was the devoted wife of Andrew and loving mother of Alan who is the landlord at the Brandeston Queen's Head. A thanksgiving service for Sandra's life was held on 24th September at March Crematorium and conducted by Rev. Robin Alderson. Sandra and Andrew have lived in Lincolnshire all the forty two years of their married life; Sandra being a secretary to an insurance company and Andrew a truck driver. The couple have always been very supportive to Alan in all his life and especially as he set up his business in Brandeston. They could often be seen at work with mower or strimmer, or maybe in the restaurant; they were known and loved by the village community, "they are part of us".

One further word – we congratulate with joy Alan and Jane (née Wehrle) who were married at Deben Registry Office on 28th August 2010. This was a very happy occasion as the couple were able to take a whole day off from the Queen to celebrate and then enjoy a ten day honeymoon in Cyprus. It was so good that Sandra as just able to see and enjoy her son being married too.

We thank God for Sandra's life and all the memories; we send to Andrew, Alan and Jane, our love, sympathy and our prayers that they may know God's peace. May she rest in peace. GV

COLONEL BOB TIPPER

Sadly we record the death of Bob Tipper, aged 94 years, of Mutton lane, Brandeston, who dies on Thursday 30th September 2010. A family only cremation was held on 14th October, followed by a 'Service of Celebration for Bob's Life' at St. Clare's Roman Catholic Church, Framlingham. Many people knew and loved Bob so the church was full, 140 people, for a service of hymns, reflection and prayer ably created and led by Rev. Mike Vipond. Bob was an active member of the Royal British Legion – to remember that the RBL Standard was on the altar. Reflections were from fellow old soldiers from the Cheshire Regiment, and his family. One special moment in the service was when general Jack Dye spoke. The General spoke of how he went "to war in a small boat" and that made him mindful of the bravery of those who went to war by glider. The General went to battle on D-Day in his boat, he took his battalion inland (under much enemy fire) to open fields and then realised there were gliders loaded with soldiers landing in amongst his men. Great courage. The General then read a poem by John Magee 1922 – 1941 (a glider pilot) "High Flight".

Officers from the Cheshire Regiment who spoke were; Colonel Richard Peel and Major Desmond Murray-Bligh, both of whom spoke of their war time experience with Bob in the machine gun regiment, in the logistics as they moved up through Italy, and his practical work with Bren-gun carriers.

The service was followed by a reception in Brandeston village where the refreshments were served and supplied by the people of Brandeston. It was a great occasion worthy of Bob's enthusiasm for life; everybody in the village seemed to be present!

Bob's life

Bob was brought up in Southsea, Hampshire, and attended Portsmouth Grammar School from where he went to Sandhurst and there to be commissioned in 1936. His certificate for commission is signed by Prince Edward 8th who reigned only for about two weeks; this is now a framed document.

Once commissioned into the Cheshire Regiment he was sent to India where he learnt to fly and worked with transport. After a year or so his battalion went to Egypt, from Cairo across the Western Desert to Libya where he became an air liaison officer with the RAF, in charge of airfields as the troops moved north through Italy. Prior to this he went with the regiment to Sudan and spent time in Khartoum.

At the end of the war Bob used his flying experience, gained in India, to join a glider pilot regiment at Netheravon. From here he went to the Royal Military Staff College, Scrivenham. Once he retired from the army he joined the MOD as an inspector of fighting vehicles; he loved the work.

Once he really retired he took to cruising in the Mediterranean, which he enjoyed, even more so when he went into a ship's chandlers store in Minorca (to buy an anchor) and met Patience – what a find, they have been together ever since. They sailed together for ten years then sold the boat, bought a camper-van and a run-down house in Southern France. They were in the house at Gers, near the Pyrenees, for 3½ years. Bob worked with wood, he took oak floorboards from a barn and made beautiful doors and started an oak table which was finished in Brandeston. Selling up in France, they moved to Brandeston in 1998, settling in Mutton Lane. They both enjoyed the community life, but still kept the motor home going. Bob was always a faithful Royal British Legion member enjoying the friendship.

Patience appreciates the care and support that she gets from the community. We send her our love, our prayers and our sympathy as we together thank God for Bob's life.

May he rest in peace.

MARJORIE COLEMAN

We are sad to report the death, at the age of 99, of a former Letheringham resident Mrs. Marjorie Coleman, who lived in April Cottage for 25 years. Mrs. Coleman was a member of the PCC, helped with the church flowers, and the Annual Churches' Bike Ride. The funeral took place in Letheringham church on October 22nd.

NOTES FORM THE CYCLE RIDE – 11 Sept 2010

Once again, the weather was kind to us – a perfect early autumn day, with the wind mostly in the right direction. We set off from Kettleburgh a little later than planned (after minor bicycle repairs). Our first stop was the church in Brandeston where we admired Peter Arbon's beautiful floral wheel. After Mill Lane chapel, we made our way to Crettingham, calling a passing 'hallo' to Terry and Helen Comer – on their way to Brandeston. From Crettingham to Framsdon, and then on to Debenham (church and chapel) via Winston. Had we made the southern detour to Helmingham, we would have seen the preparations for the society wedding taking place that day. As we left Debenham church, we were photographed for next year's local calendar. Kenton, Monk Soham and Bedfield were all churches that we had not visited before, so it was good to spend time looking and chatting. We planned to cycle the back way from Earl Soham – avoiding the hill up to Brandeston, and expecting to enjoy the gentle slope down Rectory Road. But we discovered a headwind and had to pedal hard to reach Kettleburgh – and a welcome last call.

THE CHURCH BIKE RIDE

Well done again, congratulations to the Brandeston Bikers. The Bike Ride went well, the weather conditions were good and everyone arrived home safe, as said in the October mag. Nearly 60 people visited both the Chapel and Church. Some signed in from Writtle in Essex, Harwich, Ipswich and of course Brandeston. Our riders were sponsored for a total of £1262, of which half will go to our own church. Thanks to everyone – this is a record for Brandeston!

BRANDESTON HARVEST FESTIVAL

The church had been beautifully decorated by the flower ladies for our celebration of Harvest Festival on Sunday September 26th. It had been decided to hold the service at 3.30pm followed by tea in the village hall. The tea was of the normal high standard produced by members of the PCC and others, and the whole afternoon proved to be a very happy event.

KETTLEBURGH HARVEST

Our harvest celebrations this year were on Sunday 10th October. The church was beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers, fruit, vegetables and all kinds of produce. The service in church began at 5:30 p.m with the singing of harvest hymns. During the act of Thanksgiving, symbolic gifts were brought to the altar - grain, vegetables, fruit, dairy goods, woodland and hedgerow produce, preserves, flowers and finally a loaf of bread. Harry Edwards gave the address, speaking about the history of the harvest festival, and inviting us to imagine the church as it would have been in medieval times, with colourful walls and windows.

We used the Lord's Prayer as a focus for our intercessions:

Our Father, who art in heaven

Through our love of the countryside, our care for animals and our respect for property and tools

Hallowed be your name.

On our farms, in our homes, in our places of work, where we study, design and manufacture,

and in our markets

May your kingdom come.

With your guidance, in obedience to your word, and by living true to our consciences

May your will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

For the millions who live in poverty and hunger, for our own needs and those of our neighbour, by cooperation, sympathy and generosity

Give us this day our daily bread.

Because we have broken your commandments, doing what we ought not to do and neglecting what we ought to do

Forgive us our trespasses.

If anyone has injured us by injustice, double dealing or exploitation

As we forgive those who trespass against us.

When we consider doing to others what we dislike being done to us;

when prosperity lulls us into false security or adversity prompts us to despair;

when success makes us boastful or failure makes us bitter,

Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

In assurance of faith, in confidence of hope, in the will to serve,

help us to love Christ as our Lord and our neighbour as ourselves,

For thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever, Amen.

Supper in the Village Hall followed the service. After carrot and coriander soup, jacket potatoes with cheese, salads and home made apple pies were eaten amongst friends and lively conversation. You can see photos of the church and from the supper on the Kettleburgh website. Thank you to all who came, and especially to all those who helped to make the event such a success. Donations totalled £85 and will be go to church funds.

'A commode to dog walkers'

Here's a little plea from me to you
To see if there's something we can do
When out walking with man's best friend
Please think of others, try not to offend

When your dog feels the urge to go
Please move to the side where the nettles grow
This way bikes, prams and little feet
Will come home smelling nice and sweet

I hope this advice will be heeded
And that common sense is all that's needed
Thank you for helping with this delicate issue
And a pleasant walk I am pleased to wish you.

WORDS WORTH WEIGHING

Gerald Priestland was a distinguished Foreign Affairs correspondent with the BBC before becoming religious Affairs correspondent. He was a Quaker who lived with questions and doubt. In June 1989 he suffered a severe stroke and it was through this that he found the assurance which he lacked before. Shortly before his death in 1991 he wrote. "I have had the feeling of being crushed under a rock till I could see only one crack of light, and that was the love of God, the absolute certainty, when everything else had been taken from me, that God loved me."

"When you die, God takes care of you like your mother did when you were alive – only God doesn't yell at you all the time." – 7 year old boy

TIMES PAST

Parishioners might like to know that I now have photographs of most graves or memorials commemorating the men from Brandeston and Kettleburgh who fell in the Great War of 1914 – 1918. So little is really known about their lives that it is very important that where they lie should be recorded.

For Brandeston there are now photographs concerning Privates Percy Adamson, William Bedwell, Charles and William Warne together with Serjeant Francis Stockings.

Kettleburgh's soldiers are Privates Nathan Atkins, Horace Poole and Claude Shipp with Gunners George Balls and Frederick Moore. We now have pictorial records for everyone excepting three men killed in the disastrous Gallipoli Campaign of 1915 whose memorials are in Turkey. There is a possibility that this gap will be filled.

Over the years we have looked at the lives of all the Kettleburgh men who fell in the war. Brandeston has always been the larger village. Their population in 1911 was 312 compared with Kettleburgh's 259. Now we concentrate on two more Brandeston soldiers who failed to return.

Edward William Aldous and Alfred Eli Durrant were half-brothers. Edward, born in 1887, was his mother's eldest son, whilst Alfred was also a son by a later marriage. The parents lived in the Street, Cretingham.

When Edward grew up he would have worked on the land. At that time a farm labourer earned very little; work was scarce. After harvest he would 'follow the barley' by making his way to Burton-on-Trent. There, in the winter, Edward would be employed by one of the main breweries. Thus when war was declared he enlisted at Burton-on-Trent in the North Staffordshire Regiment.

Lance Corporal Aldous was killed in May 1917 aged 30, one of the 35,000 casualties who died between Spring 1916 and August 1918. With no known grave he is remembered on the Arras Memorial where the names of the dead are carved on the cloister walls. Besides Brandeston, his name is also inscribed on the Cretingham Memorial.

His half-brother Alfred Durrant was born in 1890. He also became a farm labourer. Just before war broke out, in May 1914, he married Alice Peck, born and baptised at Brandeston. She lived with her parents at 7, Brandeston, now the left part of Park Cottage, home of Bruce and Lisa Kerr. After marriage at All Saints the newly-weds continued to live with the Peck in-laws and Violet, their little daughter was born there. Alfred who joined the Suffolk regiment also became a Lance Corporal but was killed at Loos, France in October 1915. He is commemorated there as one of the 20,000 who have no known grave. He would have been Teddy Peck of Kettleburgh's great uncle. Alfred is also remembered at both Brandeston and Cretingham.
