PARISHES OF BRANDESTON AND KETTLEBURGH

Dear Friends

It seems to me that this year, no sooner had I drawn breath after the celebrations of Christmas than I found myself moving through the months almost more quickly than I could deal with, especially with all that the new year would mean for me personally.....retirement! Not that I want to, but sadly like it or not; I was born on the August 25th 1947 (yes really!!) and clergy HAVE TO retire at age 70. However, at the beginning of March after the United Service in Parham, Bishop Martin decided, in response to submissions made to him from various people and parishes, to offer me an extension of service.

Ministering among the seven parishes since 2014 has proved to be a life changing experience, one that I will never forget and still gives me a 'buzz'. I have decided that the next phase of my life can wait a while longer. Though sadly the 'job offer' came just too late to save my beautiful 'beast of a vehicle' from being part exchanged for something bright red and less thirsty on fuel which I planned to start my retirement in the summer!

My extension, when agreed with all parties will probably be for one more year, for I cannot work on forever. It is my most sincere hope that we will use this time left together to further consolidate the union of the seven parishes. I hope this year will be a time of growth, of focus on mission, and be a time of generosity in giving, of meeting and sharing, and getting to know people from the other parishes so that together you will be ready to begin the process of looking for and finding the right person to follow after me.

Whether you are a subscriber, or an occasional reader of this magazine, I wish you all a Happy and Blessed Easter

Christ is risen, we are risen Alleluia, Alleluia.

With much love, Deirdre

EASTER SURPRISES 2017

Spring is here, a time of surprises! The rhythm of life changes with the lengthening of days and the increasing hours of day light and warmth from the sun. For many of us this is a time of year bursting with surprises, as things long forgotten pop up in odd places of our gardens. The surprise of a pair of blue tits who laid some eggs and now have seven demanding mouths to feed.

April 9th is Palm Sunday, a day which recalls Jesus entering Jerusalem on a donkey with the crowds waving palm branches; Jesus at the height of his popularity and a day which marks the start of 'Holy Week'. But surprise! In only 5 short days the crowds had turned against him bringing us to Good Friday April 14th. Then Easter Day April 16th surprise! The resurrection of Jesus Christ is discovered by two women who didn't go to the Garden of Gethsemane to see if their Lord is risen – they'd gone to finish the act of burying him and, surprise, Surprise, find the stone rolled away, the tomb empty – the resurrection accomplished. Easter is definitely a season of surprises and also one of new beginnings. The first Easter can only have been a time of surprise and of bewildered, incredulous chaos as God turned disaster into triumph. He created an Easter dawn from Good Friday's deathly darkness and, whether you were a 1st or a 21st century person, that is good news and a surprise worth waiting for. So, this is what your churches have on offer to celebrate Easter and I hope you will find at least one to suit your personal preferences. But as I have gained a reputation for saying, all of the seven churches are yours and between them they offer a great pick and mix selection.

We're delighted to announce that our next Spring tour show is The Strange Undoing of Prudencia Hart by David Greig. The play, originally produced by the National Theatre of Scotland in 2011, is currently playing off Broadway in New York to rave reviews.

What's it all about then? Follow Prudencia – an academic on her way to attend a conference in Kelso. As snow starts to fall, she begins a mystical adventure of self-discovery accompanied by plenty of folky musical moments. The strange and beautiful Scottish tale is told by four mischievous storytellers. Sometimes they speak in boombastic rhyming verse, sometimes through beguiling traditional folk songs, which will set your toes tapping and your heart racing!

People With a Passion

The final talk in this first series entitled "(Grand)parents First Aid and Common Ailments for Children - what you need to know but have been afraid to ask". It will be given by Jonathan Campbell who is a consultant paediatrician at Colchester Hospital.

Brandeston Village Hall

Monday 24th April

7:45pm for 8:00pm

People with a Passion is a series of talks where Brandeston people who have something in their lives they feel passionate about, give us a short presentation. It could be a skill or hobby, a place, a piece of music, a poem or a poet, a book or an author, an aspect of their job, a sport or just about anything that they can talk passionately about for 45 minutes or so.

The series will run during the winter months and restart in the autumn. All the talks will be in the village hall, meeting from 7:45 pm for an 8:00 pm start. Entry is open to anyone. It will be £5 on the door and will include a glass of wine and nibbles. After the presentation, people will be able to mingle and talk to the presenter and there will be a cash bar.

It takes a lot of courage to volunteer and deliver a talk to your friends and neighbours so I hope you will turn out and support our speakers on these cold winter nights. If you feel you could give a talk, or you know of someone who would, please get in touch. I already have several volunteers for next autumn and winter but I would like some more.

Many thanks to the speakers for agreeing to stand up and deliver these talks and, of course, to everyone who attended. The series will resume in the autumn and please get in touch if you feel you have something you can talk about.

Kettleburgh and Brandeston Newsletter

As I sit to write this month's article, we should by now be continuing to enjoy the more spring like weather. With Easter almost upon us and the Suffolk countryside beginning to finally emerge from the colder winter months, I am looking forward to being out and about to enjoy the wide range of events which are starting to pop up.

I am particularly enthusiastic about the marvellous food and drink offering we have here and my weekends at home in Suffolk are often spent at local markets and events. I always buy my food and drink locally to support our local businesses wherever possible.

It never ceases to amaze me the sheer diversity that we have right here on our door step – from locally produced cheeses and meats, to cordials, cider, beer and wine, and sauces, preserves and pickles, all grown, packaged and produced so creatively right in Suffolk. The success of these businesses is vital to our strong rural economy and I think we all have a part to play in ensuring that we think local and buy local whenever we can. There is so much great work going on here already to educate our children and young people on the importance of not only eating well – a healthy and balanced diet, but also eating locally and seasonally. This is vitally important in reducing the number of miles our food travels before it reaches our plate and of course, fresh produce that's in season always tastes so much better.

For those who may like to take part, my broadband survey remains open and can be found here:

Please do get in touch if you'd like a paper copy.

Thank you

Thank You

I would like to thank Mary and the PCC for the lovely card and flowers, now that I have 'retired' from editing the Brandeston and Kettleburgh magazine. I cannot remember how long I have been doing it - around 15 years or so, and it has been an interesting job. I hope that our new editor, Jan Baldwin, will enjoy it too. Val Butcher

Community Spirit

My life at Brandeston Forge now spans over 62 years, 18 of these as a widow. In all that time, I have never failed to find friendship and support, especially through periods of difficulty.

The last 12 months have been a challenging time for me, requiring numerous hospital trips for surgery, treatment etc. Immediately the community spirit came into play, with thoughtful offers of practical help and transport – very necessary for a non- driver like myself. The kindness and generosity of family (my in-laws) neighbours and friends, shown in so many ways, have been second to none, and this includes Kettleburgh. I am deeply indebted to them all.

To try and show my gratitude and to give something back, I am making a donation, divided equally between the Village Hall and the Hospital department which treated me. My thanks go to everyone who makes our community spirit so special, we have it here in abundance – something to be proud of. Mary Moore

Heart Felt Thanks

To all our neighbours and friends who have been so supportive and kind sending gifts, flowers and cards since my wife Valerie has been diagnosed with bone marrow cancer. She is responding well to chemotherapy and with her positive outlook hopes to be enjoying life to the full again in the near future. Brian Smerdon.

Thank you

Children's Society Boxes

The money is all in now and the total is £251.50! Thank you everyone who helped achieve this amount. I have a total of 17 box holders left and wondered if anyone else would like a box for your 'spare change' or 'regular giving'?

Founded in 1881, The Children's Society' was originally for orphans and children's homes called, 'The waifs and Strays'. Nowadays work is mostly done with children from poor families, broken homes, with those who have problems at school and teenagers who are runaways or young offenders. If you would like to give to this society, please put newly minted £1 coins in your box, unfortunately the bank will not accept current £1 coins.

Many Thanks to you all, Pat Beck.

Suffolk Churches Ride and Stride Sponsored Cycle Ride

£150,000 was raised in our county last year, the best in the Loes Deanery!!! We can give ourselves a pat on the back. A big thank you to all who contributed in any way. Pat Beck

PAST and FUTURE EVENTS

WICKHAM MARKET FLOWER CLUB

At the 'Hands On' Meeting on Thursday 23rd February 2017 June welcomed nearly 30 members and friends to the meeting which we were really surprised about given the terrible weather. High winds wreaking havoc throughout the country. In true Flower Club style, members and friends came in carrying their sticks, buckets of roses and other equipment from the requirement list. Storm Doris was not going to stop us. It was our "Hands On" workshop and we were making a design loosely called Zorro. June then welcomed our very own Sandra to the meeting who was going to guide us all along. Showing an amazing amount of patience Sandra helped all of us to go home with an arrangement to be proud of. Considering we all had the same list of requirements it was truly amazing how each one was different. Elsie gave the vote of thanks, saying how lucky we are to have such talent in our club and what an asset Sandra was. We had all enjoyed a lovely evening. After refreshments members enjoyed the raffle and made purchases from the sales table, before once again braving the dying elements of Doris to go home.

Tickets for the Open Meeting are now available to purchase. Members £5/ Guests £10. This includes light refreshments. Please contact Geraldine to buy your tickets. If any members are unable to go, please tell Geraldine so that the ticket can be sold to someone else.

There is a fundraising evening for the Village Hall Funds. It's going to be a fashion show, hopefully with clothes, and accessories from Laura Jane, Ninny Noo and Adams Apple. June asked for volunteer models and she would confirm the date and time hopefully at our next meeting.

On Thursday 29th June 8:30 am-9:30pm, 42 people have now booked for the outing to Wroxham Barns, East Rushton Gardens and the evening meal. Please speak with Geraldine if you want to join us.

At the next Group meeting on 3rd April there will be a demonstration on how to make a miniature arrangement. The cost is £10 and we should receive a requirements list once we are registered.

COPYHOLD COTTAGE - A BIT OF HISTORY

As many of the readers will know the village of Kettleburgh comprises homes built at many different periods of time from very old to very new. Copyhold cottage is one of the older properties, dating from 1700. Originally 3 cottages each with a stable (still standing today) the 3 cottages were knocked together at some stage making one 5 bedroom home. It has frustrated me not to be able to find information of when the transformation of the property took place. Recent works I know were completed by the owners before us.

When we purchased the property in 2013 we decided to investigate why the name “Copyhold Cottage” was given to the property. It transpires that originally the cottages were provided to land workers who in return for providing a set amount of labour provided each year to the landowner at busy times (e.g. harvest time) could live in the cottage from year to year. Infact the property ‘copyhold’ could be passed from one family member or generation to another provided the labour was still provided as required by the landowner.

Today we are familiar with the term “freehold” when we buy a property or “leasehold” if we are renting, but nowadays it is not common to hear the term “copyhold”. Indeed, I have not come across it before purchasing this property. So, if any readers have information on this subject such as when this practice ended, I would be very interested in hearing about it

THE LIFE OF A FARM LABOURER IN 1872

I recently came across a patronising letter written to The Times from "a gentleman" describing the life and habits of a typical farm labourer. I have abridged the 19th century, flowery, written word.

"As a man, he is usually strongly built often with a massive frame spoilt by the clumsiness of his walk and the want of grace in his movements. The labourer's muscle is that of the carthorse, lumbering and slow, caused by following the plough since early child hood. His food may have something to do with this as it consists chiefly of bread and cheese, with bacon twice or thrice a week, varied with onions which he often eats raw. He rarely has butcher's meat. However, he does come into his own when the meat is supplied free at the harvest horkey or similar event, when the average labourer eats massive portions of roast beef or mutton. Huge amounts of boiled cabbage seem to be eaten and his cottage reeks with the smell. He seems to have no idea about using the onions to flavour his food or to make vegetable soups as his French counterparts would. He is much better clothed these days with corduroy trousers and slops, (a loose-fitting tunic of coarse linen) taking the place of the smock frock. Everyone has his "Sunday suit" usually well made, and a hat. Women tried to copy their betters, often to the point of wearing kid gloves, which the writer thought was ludicrous as, the hands they were on had all week, been reaping or milking!

The author thought the cottages were so good they could hardly be improved! Most now had two bedrooms and a large enough garden to allow the family to be self-supporting in vegetables and a pig. I'm not sure the farm workers in question would agree with these comments and few had any personal possessions to stand on the mantle- piece or covers for the floor. The lovely, late, Peggy Cole told me the cottage she lived in as a girl in Kettleburgh, was so damp that bind weed grew up the wall inside!
